(Newsbriefs continued)

UC-Systemwide Administration has discontinued the requirement that faculty and staff file a certificate of insurance when using privately-owned vehicles on university business. However, it is required that travelers provide satisfactory evidence of auto liability insurance as a prerequisite for departmental approval of mileage reimbursement.

Employees who frequently use their personal autos for university business should notify their insurance company to avoid possible denial of a claim in the event of an accident.

Under requirements recently incorporated into law by the Fair Political Practices Commission, the UC Conflict of Interest Code requires that principal investigators whose research is funded by a non-governmental entity through a grant, contract, or restricted gift, must disclose whether they have a financial interest in the research sponsor before funds can be accepted by the university. A restricted gift is one that is earmarked by the donor for a specific researcher or for a specific research project for which the researcher is responsible. The disclosure requirement applies to contracts, grants and gifts of $250 or more.

Disclosure statements must be filed before the contract, grant, or gift is accepted, when funding is renewed, and after the project has been completed or the gift expended. Additionally, department chairs must disqualify themselves from approving a research proposal if they have a financial interest.

When disclosure reveals that a financial interest exists, the statement and the project must undergo an independent substantive review before a university decision to accept the proposed funding is made. The Advisory Panel on Relationships with Industry will take the responsibility for these reviews.

The panel will advise whether funding for the project should be accepted, based on the criteria set forth in the policy.

For further information on this new policy contact Brad Barber, x3945.

Histology technicians and those in related fields throughout Northern California who work with formaldehyde, xylene and other solvents are invited to participate in a study to determine the adverse health effects of these solutions.

The study, sponsored by the California Society of Histology, will be conducted by USC researcher Kaye H. Kilburn, MD, and colleagues on Saturday, July 17 in room HSW 508. Technicians who want to participate may come in anytime between 8:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Questionnaires will be given out and the team will perform various breathing and skin tests as well as some neurological testing.

For further information contact Patsy Kelly at x2610.

Winners of the May 17 campus blood drive raffle were Paul Beck, second-year medical student (third-time donor) and Michael Acree, research psychologist, Center for Deafness (first-time donor). Prizes of $30 gift certificates at the Washington Square Bar and Grill were donated by the Associated Students of UCSF and by the restaurant.

The campus donated 215 pints of blood at the May 17 drive. The final blood drive for 1982 is scheduled for Monday, October 11. Campus blood drives are sponsored three times a year by the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, of the S.F. Medical Society, and coordinated by Campus Tours/Speakers Bureau.

DEADLINE

Deadline for the next issue of Today & Tomorrow, which will cover the period August 7 to September 3, will be July 27, 11 a.m. Please send your copy to Allen Balderson, News & Public Information Services, 532 Parnassus Ave., Rm. 300, x1541 or x2557.

Have you heard the rumor about the UC Dental Plan?

According to a letter recently sent to all department chairs from Marvin D. Siperstein, MD, professor, Medicine and chair of the University-wide Senate Committee on Faculty Welfare, Dental Subcommittee:

"I have recently been informed of a rumor circulating on our campus to the effect that the UC Dental Insurance Program is 'going bust' and that we should hurry to get our dental work done while we can.

"There is absolutely no basis to this rumor.

"In fact, the current 'premium' of zero dollars to the faculty and staff is guaranteed by Aetna until July 31, 1983. Interestingly, ours is the only campus of the five that I called in which this misconception has appeared . . .

"I predict with confidence that some premium contribution by UC employees will certainly be required in the future. In fact, the Statewide Dental Subcommittee that I chaired recommended that such an employee contribution of $1 to $3 per month be required from the start of the program.

"The cost of dental care—and everything else—is going up, and I doubt that the program will remain completely free to us indefinitely.

"But no one has stated or suggested that the dental insurance is going to be cancelled.

"Please stop this rumor."

The Office of Public Service Programs is once again offering a Health Hazard Appraisal for UC employees, on Tuesday, July 13 at a cost of $7. A 20-minute appointment will include height and weight, blood pressure, a blood cholesterol test, and completion of a health questionnaire. The second session, held at noon hours in late July, will be a group discussion with a health professional explaining the results of the appraisal. For appointments contact Patty Zindler-Wernet at x3206.

A broad-based, 29-member Chancellor's Ad Hoc Committee on Employee Health Promotion has been established to advise the Chancellor on programs that may be developed to provide health promotion activities for the campus, especially for employees. Joseph Barbaccia, MD, vice chair, Family and Community Medicine, has been appointed head of the committee. Thomas Gwyn, director, Public Service Programs, will be responsible for implementation of any programs adopted by the campus as a result of the committee's actions; Linda Civitello-Joy of Public Service Programs will staff the committee.

The last opportunity to testify before a formal hearing on the Environmental Impact Report (EIR) for the 1982 Long Range Development Plan Restudy (LRDP) will be on Wednesday, July 14 in Toland Hall at 7 p.m. A previous hearing was held on June 29.

Testimony at both EIR hearings will be included in the final published Environmental Impact Report. The hearing record will be kept open until Friday, July 23, 1982. During this period, letters and statements may be submitted for inclusion in the record by writing to: Robert LaPointe, Chancellor's Office, 145 Irving St., or by calling x1131.

Prior to this, four public meetings were held in June and July to discuss the 1982

Long Range Development Plan Restudy of its 1976 LRDP, which UCSF is concluding as part of a year-long process to make sure that the campus planning for the '80s is based upon changing societal and academic needs and realistic financial opportunities and constraints.

Copies of the EIR and the LRDP Restudy are available from the above address.

Bryan W. Andrews, MD, a UCSF intern at SFGH, is the recipient of the 1981-82 Julius R. Krevans Prize for Clinical Excellence. The award was presented at the annual meeting of the SFGH Medical Staff on June 21.

New medical staff officers elected at the meeting were: Jack W. McAninch, MD, Urology, chief of staff; Elliot Rapaport, MD, Cardiology and Medicine, chief of staff-elect; and John P. Cello, MD, Gastroenterology and Medicine, secretary. Elected to the executive committee were David Werdegar, MD, Family and Community Medicine, and Edward L. Howes, Jr., MD, Pathology.

The $500 Krevans prize was established last year by the Gladstone Foundation Laboratories for Cardiovascular Disease, a privately-funded, UCSF-affiliated research facility located at SFGH, to honor then Dean Krevans, who is now chancellor.

The award is presented each year to a UCSF intern completing one of the three training programs based at SFGH. The prize is given for "excellence in patient care, as exemplified by clinical competence, professional conduct, concern for patients and interaction with all levels of staff including peers."

Twenty-seven interns were eligible for the Krevans prize. The winner was selected by a special committee, based on recommendations from the chiefs of service who supervise the interns.

Work on the Moffitt Hospital passenger and freight elevators has been completed. In order to speed up service the following changes have been made: elevators no longer automatically return to the first floor; the elevator doors close 20 seconds after arrival on any floor. In addition, the floor buttons inside the elevators no longer stay depressed when pushed, although the signal is registered. For further information contact Hospital Building Management at x3826.

Applications are now being accepted for California Policy Seminar Research Awards. All UC faculty and researchers who are investigating public policy issues on subjects of vital concern to Californians are invited to submit applications.

This year the seminar seeks responses to the following questions:

1) Assuming that no additional money is available, how should the public education system be changed to reduce school dropouts and increase the number of youth who either go on to college or become employed?
2) What does it cost both economically and socially to resettle refugees, and is the money used effectively?
3) Should we expand or contract the responsibilities of counties, cities, and special districts, giving local governments more/less taxing authority, more/less control over various service functions? If we do nothing, what is the likely future of local government?
4) Consider the state's economic development and role in international trade.
5) Consider the impacts of the AT&T settlement on consumers, and the effects on competition in the communications equipment manufacturing fields.
6) Are there new ways to think about taxation in California?
7) How should California coordinate state and federal policies for the freight and rail systems?
8) How should the state deal with often antiquated highway and personal transit systems?
9) California in ruins: What are the effects of fiscal shortfalls on outdated state infrastructures?
10) Are there alternatives to incarceration that would be less costly, provide adequate public protection, deter crime, and be sufficiently unpleasant to satisfy the desire for retribution?

Each research project is funded at $50,000 over a two-year-period. To apply, submit a CPS abstract form and a short description of the issue or policy to be researched to: John Cummins, director, California Policy Seminar, UC Institute of Governmental Studies, 109 Moses Hall, Berkeley, CA 94720. Deadline for submitting abstracts is September 15, 1982.

Awards for outstanding achievement were presented to the following LPPI graduates: Timothy Brewerton, MD, Award for Creative Achievement; Madeleine Meyer, MD, Alexander Simon Award; Jim Dimon, MD, Henry F. Albronda Award; Stephen Clarke, MD, National Psychiatric Endowment Fund-Laughlin Award; Robert Straus, DMH, and Dolores Keller, DMH, Doctorate of Mental Health Award; Roy Grabow, Robert E. Harris Memorial Award Clinical Psychology; and Barbara Gerbert, PhD, Outstanding Research.

In addition, Edward Burke, PhD (full-time faculty) and David Allen, MD (clinical faculty), received the Residents' Association Award for Teaching.

The School of Nursing has announced the first phase of a Computer Learning Resources Center, directed by William L. Holzemer, PhD, associate professor, Department of Physiological Nursing. The Center, expected to be fully operational by the fall, will be located on the seventh floor of the school.

The three major goals of the computer facility are: expanded research training for graduate nursing students in data management and analysis, development of computer-assisted instruction in nursing content areas, and information systems for research on management of nursing facilities and for improving patient care.

The facility's microcomputers will be linked to the student data base within the School of Nursing, which will facilitate the study of on-line information systems. The microcomputers also will be linked to the UCSF Computer Center and the Hospital Information System to allow for large scale data analysis and to give students the opportunity to study the use of on-line system networks for hospital management from a nursing perspective and direct patient care needs.

The prevention and control of dental caries, periodontal disease, oral cancer, malocclusion and other diseases of the hard and soft tissues of the mouth will be discussed at the 16th Annual John E. Gurley Lecture, entitled "What's New in the Prevention of Dental Disease?"

Sponsored by the School of Dentistry, the lecture will be held on Friday, August 13 in the Postgraduate Auditorium, Room C 701 from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The lecture will include "Introduction to Incidence of Dental Caries and Potential for Prevention." John C. Greene, dean, School of Dentistry; "Immunology and Caries: Prospects for a Vaccine" and "Fluorides and Their Role in Caries Control." Ernest Newbrun, professor, Oral Biology, Oral Medicine and Hospital Dentistry; "Antimicrobial Methods of Plaque Control and Prevention." Gary Armitage, associate professor, Periodontology.

Fee for the lecture is $35. For further formation call x1101.

Three faculty members recently retired from the School of Nursing: Marjorie S. Dunlap, EdD, Carol B. Hardgrove, MA, and Lucile Petry Leone, MS.

Dunlap, professor of Nursing in the Department of Physiological Nursing, served as dean of the School from 1969 to 1975. During her tenure at UCSF she accomplished with distinction many professional activities and served as national and international consultant to many organizations. She has been listed in Who's Who in America, Who's Who in the West and Who's Who in Health Care.

Hardgrove, who has been with UCSF since 1965, is clinical professor in Family Health Care Nursing and academic coordinator of the UCSF Child Care/Study Center. She received the 1979 Chancellor's Award for Public Service for her perseverance in seeing that plans for the Child Care Center were completed. Hardgrove is internationally known for her work in pediatrics and parent-child nursing with focus on the therapeutic uses of play for hospitalized and well children. She is the author of numerous articles and books, many of which stress the importance of including the parent as a member of the team in the treatment process of a hospitalized child.

Leone has served as counselor and advisor for International Students since 1977 after having retired from her appointment as professor and associate dean at the College of Nursing, Texas Woman's University. The recipient of 10 honorary degrees, Leone was the first nurse and the first woman Assistant Surgeon General in the U. S. Public Health Service and held the position of Chief Nurse Officer with this rank. She is the past president of the National League for Nursing and helped to formulate the first comprehensive nursing legislation, the Nurse Training Act of 1964.

KPIX-TV Channel 5 Evening Magazine will feature Millberry Union's infant swim class on Tuesday, July 13 at 7:30 p.m. The seven-minute segment will include interviews with Millberry Union instructors and parents of the infants, and shots of the infants learning to swim.

The Psychotherapy Center at LPPI offers treatment for widows to help them work out their grief and adapt to a new life.

A 12-week session of individual treatment or participation in a mutual help group is offered to women who have been widowed for a period of four months to three years. The program, now in its final stages, is part of a three-year study of different methods for helping widows cope with bereavement.

The treatment is free of charge. In addition to attending therapy or mutual help group sessions, the women will be asked to participate in evaluation interviews. Confidentiality will be respected.

For further information call x77-513 or 77-510, Monday to Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The need for a UCSF women's center is the focus of a newly formed subcommittee of the Chancellor's Advisory Committee on the Status of Women.

Chaired by Beverly Hall, PhD, Mental Health and Community Nursing, the subcommittee is charged with drawing up a specific plan to be considered by the committee at its September meeting for recommendation to the Chancellor. Included in the report will be goals, objectives, tentative budget and a description of required space.

Individuals who have particular issues for consideration, suggestions or are involved in a campus group that would be interested in sharing space in a women's center, should contact Ann Barnard, MU, H level, x5683.

Research to Prevent Blindness (RPB) has awarded the Francis I. Proctor Foundation a $14,000 grant to assist in exploring new concepts in the prevention and treatment of eye diseases. This brings the total RPB funds to $141,000 given to the department since 1960, according to director G. Richard O'Connor, MD.

The solution of many problems concerned with infectious and allergic diseases of the eye has been accomplished with the help of RPB funds, including notable advances in the treatment of toxoplasmic retinochoroiditis and herpetic keratouveitis.

The Proctor Foundation is among some 50 medical institutions which receive annual grant support from Research to Prevent Blindness.
